You are invited!

You are invited to attend the Future of Work & Artificial Intelligence HBCU Faculty Symposium, sponsored by Deloitte with support from the Deloitte Foundation.

The symposium is an immersive experience that can help HBCU faculty consider how they prepare students for the future of work and explore the latest Artificial Intelligence insights and the implications for Higher Education. This interactive session will feature keynote speakers and engage participants in individual and group activities to understand how to apply the learnings on campus. We look forward to seeing you there!

In order to provide an opportunity for additional faculty to experience our insights and Deloitte University, we request that you share this invitation with educators who did NOT participate in last year's HBCU Faculty Symposium. To express interest in attending, please complete this brief survey by April 15: HBCU Future of Work & AI Symposium

DATE	Sunday, June 2 – Tuesday, June 4
LOCATION	Deloitte University ; Westlake, TX
TRAVEL DETAILS	Travel and lodging expenses will be covered by the Deloitte Foundation.

Please feel free to contact Derrick Tinsley (Dtinsley@deloitte.com) with any questions.

About Deloitte

Deloitte refers to one or more of Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu Limited, a UK private company limited by guarantee ("DTTL"), its network of member firms, and their related entities. DTTL and each of its member firms are legally separate and independent entities. DTTL (also referred to as "Deloitte Global") does not provide services to clients. In the United States, Deloitte refers to one or more of the US member firms of DTTL, their related entities that operate using the "Deloitte" name in the United States and their respective affiliates. Certain services may not be available to attest clients under the rules and regulations of public accounting. Please see www.deloitte.com/about to learn more about our global network of member firms.

About the Deloitte Foundation

The Deloitte Foundation, founded in 1928, is a not-for-profit organization that supports education in the U.S. through a variety of initiatives that help develop the next generation of diverse business leaders, and their influencers, and promote excellence in teaching, research and curriculum innovation. The Foundation sponsors an array of national programs relevant to a variety of professional services, benefiting high school students, undergraduates, graduate students and educators.
