

The HBCU Advocate presents:

The 4th Annual Pitch: HBCU Startup Competition

as part of the 2023 HBCU Futures Conference (virtual and in-person)

The poster for the Pitch:HBCU event features a blue and white color scheme. At the top left, it says 'The 2023 HBCU Futures Conference September 28-30'. The main title 'Pitch:HBCU' is in large, bold, blue letters. Above it, the text 'Are you building the next big startup or social good venture?' is written in a smaller font. Below the title, it says 'THE startup competition for HBCU student and alumni founders' and 'Minimum $10,000 Grand Prize!'. The event details are 'SATURDAY SEPT 30, 2023 | Noon - 1:30 PM' and 'Washington, DC (virtual and in-person)'. At the bottom right, it says 'Learn more and apply by Sept. 21st: HBCUfuturesnow.com/pitchhbcu'. The background includes icons of a laptop, a rocket, a bar chart, and a globe, along with photos of people and a building.

Calling all HBCU alumni and current student founders! Are you building the next startup unicorn or a social good venture? Can you explain your idea in 5 minutes or less? Do you want to win thousands in cash + prizes?

- Are you building the next startup unicorn or a social good venture?
- Can you explain your idea in 5 minutes or less?
- Do you want to win thousands in cash + prizes?

Application deadline: Thursday September 21st, 2023

Questions? Email pitch@thehbcuadvocate.com

APPLY NOW via the conference website!

Sponsored by the JPMorgan Chase & Co.
The National Science Foundation and The HBCU Advocate

Location: University of the District of Columbia, Student Center

Calling all HBCU alumni and current student founders!

This is a FREE conference for HBCU students, faculty, staff and alumni (though space is limited)

Join us at the University of the District of Columbia, and online Sept 28-30th for workshops, panel discussions, an awards ceremony, fireside chats, and keynotes covering topics such as The State of HBCUs, AI and the Future of Work, Fundraising for Universities, Successful Entrepreneurship, Getting Rid of Student Loan Debt, Healthcare Advocacy, Funding for College, Obtaining Research Grants, Homeownership, Successful Faculty Career Strategies, Careers in Social Justice, Franchising the Future, Financial Fitness, and Career Readiness.

Students:

Don't miss student success day
Friday, Sep 29, 2023, 10 am – 2 pm EST

Register NOW to be eligible for LAPTOP AND BOOK SCHOLARSHIP GIVEAWAYS!!

Learn more and register today: www.hbcufuturesnow.com

Calling all HBCU students!

Scan for more details

HBCU Futures

Conference 2023

In-person and Virtual | SEPT 28-30

Washington, DC

Our FUTURE is brighter than ever

Student Success Day

Friday Sept. 29 10am - 2pm EST
Registration is FREE

-  Career Conversations with JPMorgan Chase
-  A Money Matters Workshop
-  Lunch provided for virtual and in-person participating HBCU students
-  HBCU swag and apparel giveaways*

Don't Miss:
All day book scholarship and laptop giveaways!*

Learn more and register:
hbcufuturesnow.com

 Visit to the National Museum of African American History and Culture

... and so much more!

*Prizes are for current students who must be present, virtually or in-person, 10am - 12pm, to win

Sponsored by JPMORGAN CHASE & CO.

JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. Member